Hinman Members Wind Down 2006 and Gear Up for 2007

Julie Weir's presentation at the upcoming January 2007 Hinman Dental Society Membership Meeting will help you learn the causes of team conflict and how to work with each other, and keep the morale high in your office.

Julie Weir

All of us possess a combination of four different behavioral traits; dominance (control), extroversion (people), pace (patience) and conformity (systems). Understand the four behavior traits to communicate and work more effectively, reducing conflict and increasing productivity.

President's Letter

Hinman Enjoys an Excellent Reputation Countrywide

*Max Ferguson
President*

Our November membership meeting was another great success. Thank you to the 200 plus who attended and to Dr. Harald Heymann for an entertaining and informative presentation. As always, a big thank you goes to our Hinman Trustees for this continued support of the meetings.

Nancy and I proudly represented Hinman last month in Memphis at the 12th Annual Hinman Research Symposium hosted by the University of Tennessee School of Dentistry. This symposium showcases undergraduate dental student research projects. This year 40 different dental schools were represented including three from Canada. Our annual gift to UT allows them to bring these top students and their mentors to Memphis to present their work in a competitive, but casual, atmosphere. We can all be very proud of our Hinman dollars at work and the fine reputation Hinman enjoys throughout the country because of the special commitment to academics.

As March fast approaches, I know we're all on board with Richard for the 2007 meeting. Remember to attend your committee meetings and if you do not have an assignment or want to do more, contact the Hinman office.

On behalf of all Society officers, another heartfelt thank you to everyone on the Hinman staff. You really are the "glue" that keeps us all together.

I hope everyone had a healthy, happy holiday season and I'll look forward to seeing all of you at the January meeting. This one will be great for staff so be sure to include them. See you soon.

Take care,

UT College of Dentistry Hosts National Student Research Meeting

The twelfth annual Hinman Student Research Symposium was held October 27-29 at the Peabody Hotel in downtown Memphis, Tennessee. The Symposium features oral and poster presentations of research projects by dental students and graduate students from across North America. At this year's Symposium, 85 students represented 44 educational institutions in 28 states, the District of Columbia, and 3 provinces of Canada. From the University of Tennessee, 11 students presented their research project results.

The Symposium is organized by Dr. Mustafa Dabbous, Associate Dean for Research in the College of Dentistry at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center, with the help of the faculty and staff of the Dental Research Center. The keynote speaker at the Welcoming Banquet was Dr. Dushanka V. Kleinman, Deputy Director of the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research (NIDCR). Dr. Kevin S. Hardwick, Extramural Training Officer of the NIDCR, also attended the Symposium and addressed the students about opportunities for advanced training in research. Cosponsors of the Symposium are the UTHSC College of Dentistry and the Hinman Dental Society. The Symposium is supported in part by grants from the NIDCR, the Procter & Gamble Company, and Viral Antigens, Inc.

Six awards are made for the most outstanding presentations, three in clinical research and three in basic science research, in addition to an award from the National Student Research Group of the American Association for Dental Research. Awards were presented by Dean Russell O. Gilpatrick of the UTHSC College of Dentistry, Dr. Hardwick representing the NIDCR, and Dr. L. Maxwell Ferguson, President of the Hinman Dental Society. 🌸

General Chairman's Letter

New Ideas for the Best Hinman Ever

*Richard Goodroe
General Chairman*

My hope is that all of you had a great holiday season. It is a time of year that Kathy and I look forward to every year. It is a wonderful time for family and friends.

Hinman 2007 is just around the corner and well underway at this time. Robert and Jim Bob have put together a first class program. This program has something for every dental professional, dentists and staff alike.

The planning phase that we are working on now is the committee meetings. These meetings are very important to the success of this meeting, so I would like for each chairman to highly encourage everyone on his/her committee to attend their scheduled meeting! This is extremely important. I know this is extra work, but it will pay high dividends at the meeting in March.

All Hinman members pledge to do eight hours of service at the meeting. Please, if you are not on a committee at this time, I encourage you to call Stephanie Park at the Hinman office and she will assist you in getting assigned to a committee. Remember, in order to get an invitation to the General Chairman and President's party on Thursday night, you must volunteer for eight hours of service.

For the 2007 Hinman Meeting we are doing some things different from past meetings:

- New computerized CE processing, we will have terminals in two locations in the A Building, including the exhibit hall. Attendees can print out their certificate on site or up until six months after the meeting at no charge.
- Free wireless internet access in the public areas of the A Building.
- Children can be registered for the Meeting and will be allowed in the exhibit hall.
- All lectures and courses will be in the GWCC (A or B Buildings) or the Omni Hotel.
- There are several short courses offered this year of 1.5 to 2 hours to enable more time in the exhibit hall.
- The Keynote Speaker is Vince Dooley.
- We will have a special grand prize car give away at the opening session for all paid registrants (Hinman members not eligible).

Thank you,

Dr. Curtis Reding: A Hinman Member for Nearly 60 Years

BY KIM RYAN

Past General Chairman and retired Decatur dentist, Dr. Curtis Reding has probably seen the Thomas P. Hinman Dental Meeting change more than any other Hinman member. He's been involved with Hinman since 1948 and has held every office imaginable within the Hinman Dental Society and the meeting.

He served as General Chairman of the meeting in 1965 and says that it's a completely different meeting today. Back then, the meeting featured eight to ten clinicians and had just moved its location to the Atlanta Marriott Motor Hotel in downtown Atlanta. At several thousand attendees, he says it was still one of the larger meetings in the country. And, southern hospitality was still a big part of the meeting then. "We treated visiting clinicians like no other meeting and hosted some of the most prominent dentists in the country."

Even after Dr. Reding served as General Chairman, he continued to serve as the Technical Exhibits Chairman for many years and also on the Board of Trustees. He continues to attend Advisory Board meetings and stays involved with Hinman despite the fact that he retired from his dental practice more than 30 years ago. But, Dr. Reding doesn't really represent the average retiree. He has circled the globe many times over.

"My wife and I visited every continent except Antarctica – we just had no desire to see that part of the world." But, he's seen every other corner of the world and even spent Christmas last year in Hong Kong at 88 years of age. When he's not globe-trotting, he often judges chrysanthemum shows around the country. He began growing chrysanthemums when he first retired and almost immediately began showing them in various shows like the Georgia Chrysanthemum Society's annual show at the Atlanta Botanical Garden.

Dr. Reding will celebrate his 90th birthday in March and says he looks back fondly on his years in dentistry and his involvement with Hinman. His advice to up-and-coming dentists is simple, "They should know how lucky they are and if they are like me, helping others will be their greatest pleasure." ❁

Be People Smart! How to Deal with the Four Different "Planets" that People Come From

By understanding the communication style of each "planet", team members will learn how to present treatment information in their patient's "language", thus making it easier for the patient to understand, resulting in increased treatment acceptance.

Julie Weir has built an outstanding reputation as a consultant, international speaker and author in the business of dentistry. She is known for her dynamic, energetic and entertaining style that captivates dental teams with practical information they can relate to. Because of her hands-on ownership experience in a dental practice, Julie brings a unique management blend of both the business and clinical aspects of dentistry into her talks. She shares proven tools and systems with audiences that are effective and can be put into use right away. With more than 30 years of experience in dentistry, she has worked as a hygienist, dental assistant and office manager, and has held a clinical teaching position at The University of Michigan School of Dentistry. Julie received her Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene from The University of Michigan in 1976, and has been an active member of The Academy of Dental Management Consultants since 1997. Being a Certified DynaMetrics Professional allows her to coach doctors and staff to better select, manage and understand individual working styles, which lead to better team interaction and productivity. Julie has been published in numerous dental journals and is the author of the book 10 Steps to a Dental Practice Business Plan. She has spoken at numerous regional, national and international dental association conferences. 🌸

Julie Weir has built an outstanding reputation as a consultant. Her lecture will focus on a combination of four different behavioral traits; dominance (control), extroversion (people), pace (patience) and conformity (systems). Understand the four behavior traits to communicate and work more effectively, reducing conflict and increasing productivity. Learn the causes of team conflict and how to work with each other, and keep the morale high in your office.
