

HINMAN STUDENT RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

The historic Peabody Hotel in Memphis, Tennessee was the site of the eighteenth Hinman Student Research Symposium October 26-28, 2012. The Symposium featured oral and poster presentations of research projects by dental students and graduate students from dental schools across the nation. At this year's Symposium, 101 students represented 45 dental schools in 28 states, the District of Columbia and 3 Canadian provinces. Twenty dental students from the University of Tennessee presented their projects and acted as hosts for the Symposium.

The Symposium is sponsored by the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry and co-sponsored by the Hinman Dental Society, which holds one of the nation's largest continuing dental education meetings each March in Atlanta. The Symposium is also supported in part by grants from the National Institute for Dental and Craniofacial Research (NIDCR), the ADEAGies Foundation, the Procter & Gamble Company, the UTHSC College of Dentistry Alumni Association and the Tennessee Dental Association Foundation.

The Symposium was opened by Dr. Timothy L. Hottel, Dean of the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry, followed by Dr. Franklin Garcia-Godoy, Senior Executive Associate Dean for Research and

by Dr. Mustafa Dabbous, founder of the Symposium. Dr. James A. Roos, President of the Hinman Dental Society, welcomed the participants, praised the Symposium organizers and the student participants and presented an overview of the upcoming Hinman Meeting to be held in Atlanta March 21-23, 2013.

The keynote speaker at the welcoming banquet was Dr. Rena D'Souza, current President of the American Association for Dental Research and Professor and Chair of Biomedical Sciences at Baylor College of Dentistry. Her topic was "Why Translational Research Matters to Dentistry." Dr. D'Souza presented a vision of students using the skills they learned in research in their future dental practice to collect, analyze,

Membership Meeting
January 14
Georgia Aquarium, Atlanta

Mr. Dave Weber

*President and CEO,
Weber Associates*

President's Message

Seasons Greetings

Jim Roos
President

That's Hinman season, of course! I hope this newsletter finds you in happy holiday spirits. General Chairman Brad Greenway's meeting is getting closer and the excitement of Hinman 2013 is mounting. Make sure you have a committee assignment or call the Hinman office to get one. We are going to have a great time in March.

In October, my wife, Liz, and I traveled to Memphis to attend the University of Tennessee's Hinman Student Research Symposium. We, the Hinman Dental Society, support this unique symposium where dental students from all over the country present their research projects either orally or via poster/table clinics. The topics cover a wide array of dental related subjects and the sophistication of the research is extremely impressive. The Hinman Dental Society was organized "to develop and foster scientific dentistry and dental education" and this event exemplifies our mission. The gratitude and thanks I received from the presenters and their mentors, as well as the UT Research faculty was overwhelming and I was proud and honored to represent Hinman.

Please sign up and bring your staff to the membership meeting on January 14th at the Georgia Aquarium. Dave Weber is our speaker, and audiences love him. He has absolutely brought the house down in his lectures. Your staff will love it and will appreciate a break from the everyday pace. The value for the CE credit is a fabulous deal, as the Hinman Trustees generously subsidize the cost.

Our annual meeting will take place at Chateau Elan, June 7th - 9th, and promises to be fun for all ages. Our annual meeting chairman, Troy Schulman, along with Laura from the Hinman staff, have been working hard planning events and finalizing details. This getaway is another one of the many Hinman perks that comes with membership and working at the March meeting. This is when the grand prize vacation package is drawn. In addition, the Trustees chip in for one night's room charge, as well as contribute to the parties, prizes (bingo) and meals for our families. It is also a great time to meet other members in a relaxed atmosphere and take part in exciting and fun family activities.

I hope you all have a very happy and prosperous new year. Let's support Brad in producing another "Best Hinman Ever." I look forward to seeing everyone at the January membership meeting and at your respective committee meetings.

Until then, all the best,

General Chairman's Message

Countdown to the Meeting

Brad Greenway
General Chairman

The Greenway clan had a most enjoyable Christmas season. We were able to spend time with my son who was home from college in Chicago and my two daughters who have graduated from college but live in the area. I hope you were able to enjoy your family and friends this holiday season as well.

I can't believe that the Hinman meeting is only a couple of months away. Time flies! We are excited about the 2013 meeting and we have 13 new speakers coming this year (coincidence or by design—I will let you decide). Dr. David Clark is one of our new speakers and will speak on minimally invasive dentistry. Some of the video he will show is actually in 3D—pretty amazing! Also Vincient DiMaio, M.D. will be speaking about President Kennedy's assassination, including forensics and facts. He will give another course about notable homicides. Both courses will appeal not only to dentists but to anyone interested in history. Be sure to invite your friends and guests to Dr. DiMaio's courses. Another new speaker is Dr. John Droter who will be educating us about TMJ/TMD. Dr. David Little will be speaking on implant overdentures.

This year we have an orthodontist speaking at the meeting. Dr. David Sarvar is the only orthodontist to be accepted into the American Academy of Cosmetic Dentistry. General dentists and orthodontists can learn from his informative lectures. Consider inviting your referring orthodontist and attend the course together.

Dr. Charles Blair will be conducting an interactive course that will include a panel of speakers talking about how to avoid coding mistakes that could potentially get you thrown in jail. The course will include audience participation using keypad response units. Don't worry, your mistakes are safe with us! There are many more new speakers who will share their expertise and we are fortunate to have them on our program.

We again are offering all-day tracks so that you can have your day planned out. One twist is that we are having a clinical team conference where assistants are in one room, and the doctors are in an adjacent room for the morning session. Then we will combine the two so that doctors and assistants will hear Dr. Randy Huffines speak on glass ionomers together. His course is specifically geared towards the team hearing the information together. You can attend with your assistant then we have allowed time after the course to visit the exhibit floor to conduct your office shopping together.

Special events this year include our keynote session with Jack Hanna, host of the television series "Jack Hanna's Animal Adventures." Also on Thursday is the Viking School Cooking Demonstration. Friday starts out with Breakfast at Macy's (shopping too!), the Hinman luncheon, wine tasting in the afternoon and ends with the Dentist Reception that evening. JoEllen, my wife, has brought back the homes tour on Saturday. I want to personally thank Drs. McDonald, Newsom and Winter for sharing their homes in the Druid Hills community with the Hinman attendees. Thanks also to JoEllen and Liz Roos for their work on the Spouses' Committee.

Great things are happening on the exhibit floor as well. Antique cars owned by Hinman members will be at both ends of the floor. Be sure to stop by and choose your favorite. We will also be conducting a "Treasure Quest" for the attendees, who can win up to $500 cash each day. Please be sure to support the exhibitors by placing orders at the meeting. I plan to order all my non-perishables for the year at our Hinman.

We need you! The meeting is getting bigger and more complex every year. Plan to serve on a committee. If you don't have a committee assignment, it is not too late. Contact the Hinman office immediately so that we can get you signed up and you can attend your committee meeting prior to March.

I am excited and ready for the Meeting to begin. Thanks again to my Program Chairmen, Drs. Ferguson and McDonald, for an awesome program. See you at the committee meetings!

President Roos presents Allen French with his advisory pin for serving as the 2012 General Chairman.

Thirty-year pin recipients

Many years ago, the leadership of the Hinman Dental Society decided to honor those who had maintained their membership for 30 years with a commemorative Hinman lapel pin with a garnet stone. The significance of the pin is to recognize and give distinction to those who have worked for many years to maintain and enhance the excellent reputation of the Society, as well as the Hinman Dental Meeting. This year's recipients were Jim Anderson, Gordon Brady, Mike Carpenter, Doug Clepper, Jim Fagan, III, Bob Gray, Thom Kauffman, Bob Michelich and Mike Stewart.

and submit data on the performance of new materials and techniques to dental schools, dental societies, private industry and public health administrators. The goal is for all dentists to be part of an oral health research network.

Dr. Garcia-Godoy encouraged the students to remain active in research regardless of whether their career paths take them into dental practice or academics. Dr. Lynn Mertens-King, Chief of the NIDCR Research Training and Career Development Branch, addressed the participants and emphasized the role of NIDCR in supporting research training for dental students and the career options available to future leaders in clinical and translational research. Also attending the meeting and offering an insight into opportunities beyond dental practice was Rebecca Van Horn, Dental Science Liaison for Procter & Gamble.

Special awards were presented to Mrs. Iva Pendleton of the University of Tennessee

College of Dentistry for her dedicated service to the Symposium, to Dr. Robert Spears of the Baylor College of Dentistry, Dr. William Johnson of the University of Nebraska and Dr. Brian Laurence of Howard University for their long-standing support and participation in the Symposium and to Katherine Garcia-Godoy, for her generous support of student-faculty interactions.

Eight awards were given for the most outstanding student presentations, four in clinical research and four in basic science research, in addition to an award from the National Students Research Group (NSRG) of the American Association for Dental Research. Awards were presented by Drs. James A. Roos, Timothy Hottel, Franklin Garcia-Godoy, and by current NSRG officers Kelly Sayre, dental student at the Oregon Health & Science University and Danny Khalash, dental student at the University of Florida.

Why you don't want to miss the Hinman exhibit floor this year!

As the Tradition Continues into the 101st Hinman Meeting, the exhibit hall is still considered to be a must-see at this year's meeting. As members of the Hinman Dental Society, you are aware of Dr. Hinman's mission to provide high quality dental education. More than half of the revenue from the Meeting comes from our valued exhibitors; this revenue gives a huge boost to Hinman's contributions to dental education. Besides visiting with and purchasing from Hinman exhibitors, here are a few other exhibits highlights this year:

Two complimentary CE product presentations moderated by Tricia Osuna will be taking place on the exhibit hall floor. The presentations will be given by the company representatives in 10 minute segments, offering you a glimpse of new and innovative products and services for Cosmetic/ Restorative Dentistry and Dental Hygiene/ Preventive Care. This educational session is held on the floor for your convenience, making it easy to follow up directly with the companies in their booths.

Be sure to stop by Messages to Our Military, Booth 856. Hinman and Bennett Graphics have joined forces to give you the opportunity to write a note of thanks to those men and women defending our freedom. Visit the Messages to Our Military booth and write a postcard of thanks, or bring a box of already written postcards from your office staff, patients, family or other groups with you to the booth. The more messages we send, the more people we reach!

Come and explore the Hinman Classic Car Exhibit. Vintage, classic and exotic cars will be in booths 840 and 2741. These vehicles have been beautifully restored by our own Hinman members.

Hinman now offers an enhanced Cyber Center on the floor near the Eatery on the left side. You will now be able to charge your mobile device on-site. Be sure to bring your smart phone and/or tablet and your charger to plug in. Don't forget to scan the Hinman QR code to help guide you through the Meeting, as well.

And, as the Tradition Continues, we will again have the dining dollar coupons in the Guide to Technical Exhibits, Table Clinics and fun games. As always, don't forget to save your purchases for the Meeting to support our exhibitors.

We need you!

The Member Corner upcoming article submission deadline is March 29. We are looking for articles intended to better acquaint our members with each other. Examples of articles include: Informational, non-clinical topics that would appeal to members, a member biography that highlights fun or unique hobbies or interests, a wrap-up of an event that would be of interest to members, local volunteer opportunities of which you are a part, society connections or society-related stories. Please contact Laura at lpope@hinman.org to submit an article or for more information on article guidelines.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Learning to Fly Fish, or How to Get Out of Your Real Job Alive!

Tom Carroll, cherrylogrods@mac.com

Whether he knew it or not, Dr. Walt Sheffield gave me sage advice when I was still a “wet behind the ears” struggling dentist. In so many words he said to start practicing for your retirement, early and often! That can be interpreted many ways and always can present a problem for those of us who have chosen a profession so demanding of our time and attention. “I’ll pick up a hobby once the practice calms down, once the kids are out of school, once …..”

Anyway, here we are discussing fly fishing as one way of not only starting to practice for retirement, but also having a lot of fun and getting exercise. Since I didn’t practice what Walt preached as early as I could have, I didn’t start fishing, or doing any outdoor sport, until reaching 45 years old and only then because my son first picked up a fly rod and loved it. Seemed like a good activity to have in common with him that we could do for many years, and that has turned out to be a fact.

Fly fishing is a sport a lot like golf - you can learn the basics pretty quickly, but applying that knowledge to the point of being really adept takes a lifetime of practice and experience. As with many endeavors, the journey is more important than the destination. My 20 plus years of fly fishing have taken me to over 20 states and 5 foreign countries. Since trout – the main target of most fly fishers – only live in beautiful places, just being there is satisfaction enough. Of course, hooking into a big brown trout in Yellowstone Park, or a tarpon in Biscayne Bay, adds a lot more fun!

For those of us living in North Georgia, there are countless places to fly fish, and we can do it all year long. Getting started in fly fishing doesn’t have to be expensive, although as with any activity, the toys can add up. It’s good to have someone guide you on a beginner’s outfit that doesn’t stretch the pocketbook but enables you to get a good idea of whether you want to become a gear addict.

Lessons from a qualified teacher will get you started – it’s interesting that most women take to the initial instructions better than men. The ladies realize fly fishing is much more technique, patience and practice, than strength.

So, practicing for retirement has worked out all right for me – I have turned my obsessive behavior disorder toward fly fishing, tie my own flies and now own my own small company that builds custom fly rods. Even a few Hinman members have one of my custom rods. In my retirement, fly fishing has been one way to be busy and stay out of my wife’s way. Most days when not fishing, you’ll find me building rods or planning a new fishing trip. Please feel free to contact me about all things fly fishing!

SOCIETY NEWS

Hinman Committee Service Requirement

Recently, our members have requested more accountability within the membership. The benefits of membership are numerous and of great value. The growth and increased complexity of our Meeting require more volunteers. Effective with the approval of the proposed Bylaw changes at the November 12th Membership Meeting, we will clarify the obligations as printed in the Society Manual.

The responsibility of "regular, reliable, responsible service on Society and Hinman Meeting Committees" will now be recorded on an annual basis for active, non-emeritus members. This change means that all active members will be required to fulfill their committee duties effectively for the March Meeting. After one year of non-service, the member will be placed on probation. After the second year of non-service on a committee, the Hinman membership will be revoked.

Member benefits will be available to those who serve on committees. In order to receive complimentary registration to the March Meeting and also the Society Annual Meeting in June, members must be signed up for a committee no later than March 8, 2013. Beginning this year, members will enter to win the member prize trip, valued at $5,000, at their respective committee meetings, instead of at the Dentist Reception.

The committee lists are available online at www.hinman.org/society. To sign up for a committee, please contact Lynn at lleidel@hinman.org.

- When you are registering for the March Meeting, be sure to register under the Hinman member category to avoid duplicate registrations. Member badges will be mailed separately from your office staff badges. Expect your member registration materials the week of March 11th.
- Remember, only those members who attend their committee meetings in the spring will be invited to attend the General Chairman and President's Reception at 200 Peachtree on Thursday, March 21st.
- To be eligible for the Hinman member prize trip to Elbow Beach, Bermuda, committee meeting attendance and service at the Hinman meeting are required.

And the winner is...

Congratulations to Dirk Russell and Ryan Frederich! They were the prize drawing winners of gift cards during the business meeting at the November Membership Meeting.

We also want to congratulate Hinman cash winners, Clay Skognes and Sedgie Newsom. The Technical Exhibits committee is encouraging members to visit the exhibit floor and make purchases during the Hinman Meeting by awarding $100 in Hinman Cash at each of the Membership Meetings. The committee will draw for more winners at the January Membership Meeting. Be sure to attend for your chance to win!

Inside Story

Hinman Scholars turned Members

There are many different ways that one becomes aware of “The Hinman Way.” It may be as a child at an annual meeting, through their dental school, from an associate, once they graduate or when they open their own practice. Hinman scholars have a unique opportunity to be a special guest of the Meeting, and are subject to the exceptional treatment that is extended to guests and speakers alike. The scholars receive free registration, transportation to the meeting and also hotel accommodations (which make them the envy of all of their dental school friends). They also attend the scholars’ luncheon, where the trustees present them with their scholarship checks. Hinman Scholars are hand-picked by the deans and professors of their program, which makes them the type of dentists that Hinman seeks for membership. We are lucky to have a few Hinman scholars who have later been accepted as members to the society. Drs. Jason Myerson and Justin Parente are two recent examples who are sure to make a positive mark on the society now and in the future.

Jason Myerson

Dr. Myerson grew up in Atlanta and attended Tufts University, Medical College of Georgia for Dental School and completed his AEGD residency at the Medical University of South Carolina. In 2007, he joined the practice of Hinman member Richard Weinman, and became a partner in 2011.

Jason attended the meeting throughout dental school and spent most of his time on the exhibit floor. He was chosen to be a Hinman scholar in 2004. He “was honored to receive a Hinman Scholarship, which made that convention extra special. It was clear as a student that the Hinman Society was prestigious and well organized and [he] looked forward to joining after graduation.” He thoroughly enjoyed his experience as a scholar at the 2004 meeting, especially the scholars’ luncheon. He said it “was another exciting experience, giving [him] an opportunity to meet students from around the south who were also excelling at their academic challenges.”

He was encouraged by Dr. Weinman to become a member of the society and joined in 2008. Since then, Dr. Myerson has “enjoyed being a member because of the camaraderie amongst the members and the availability to complete CE credits with the most respected clinicians.”

Justin Parente

Dr. Parente has lived in Alpharetta since 1998 and attended the University of Georgia and Medical College of Georgia for dental school and also to complete his endodontic residency. He is currently in private practice with his father and Hinman member, Stephen Parente. He had exposure to Hinman functions starting in middle school through his dad.

Once in dental school, he found that when attending the March meeting, his “experience changed so that, rather than merely wandering the exhibit hall collecting branded tooth brushes and stress balls in a Halloween candy bag, [he] began to audit relevant classes and attend social functions.” He was selected as a scholar in 2007, and found that “the Hinman scholarship not only provided [him] with recognition for [his] hard work and a sense of accomplishment, but also opened [him] to a community of dentists who focus on and devote resources to more than their own practice and self interest.”

Dr. Parente was encouraged to join in 2010 by his father and other Alpharetta area dentists who were friends and his mentors. Since joining, he has “been impressed with the camaraderie and dedication of other Hinman members.” He believes that “perhaps the best member benefit is welcoming, and occasionally recommending, other friends and colleagues into the Hinman society who did not have [his] fortunate early exposure to the benefits of membership.”

HINMAN QUICK PICKS

What is your favorite part of attending the March Hinman Meeting?

“One of the things I like about the Hinman Dental Meeting is that the meeting has become a yearly gathering place where I meet some of my colleagues and friends. We talk about our families, work, life in general, and some of the great continuing education offered at the meeting. One year, I also brought my two daughters for a few hours and they had fun on the exhibit floor. They loved that they had badges with their names on it.” – Evis Babo

“While unquestionably the seminars are world class and the exhibit hall is the best I’ve ever attended, it is the camaraderie and hospitality that make attending the Hinman an event to always look forward to.” – Marc Moskowitz

“My favorite part at the Hinman is the ability to chat and learn with like-minded dentists. It invigorates and recharges us to go back into our practice with new information, materials, and techniques which allows us to give our patients better treatment.” – Rico Short

“My favorite part of attending the Hinman March meeting is the people I will see. I always know I will have fun, learn something new, and probably buy something because of them.” – Jeremy Ward

For the May issue, we are looking for your favorite vacation spot and why it is your favorite. Please send in your reply, along with a headshot to lpope@hinman.org by March 29. One lucky respondent will receive an AMEX gift card!

Congratulations to Dr. Rico Short, this month’s quick picks AMEX gift card winner!

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES

DATE: Thursday, November 1, 2012
TIME: 6:00 p.m. cocktails
6:30 p.m. dinner
PLACE: Hinman Executive Office
 PRESIDING: Dr. Jane Puskas, President-elect
 INVOCATION: Dr. Jim Roos, President

CALL TO ORDER: President-elect Jane Puskas called the meeting to order at 6:55 p.m.

ROLL CALL: There was a quorum present as follows: OFFICERS: Jim Roos, Jane Puskas, Pat Yancey, Jonathan Dubin, Bob O'Donnell, Kate Robinson, Roy McDonald EXECUTIVE COUNCIL: Sedgie Newsom, Tom Carroll, William Rousseau, Troy Schulman TRUSTEES: Bill Schroeder, Paul Isler, Bill Rousseau, Richard Goodroe, Dan Dunwody HINMAN CHAIRMEN: Brad Greenway, Brian Carpenter, Dave Lee ADVISORY BOARD CHAIRMAN: Allen French STAFF: Sylvia Ratchford, Laura Pope

MINUTES: Secretary Jonathan Dubin presented the minutes from the September Executive Council and Membership Meeting as printed in the November Hinman Preview Review. Both sets of minutes were approved (O'Donnell/Robinson).

FINANCE: Treasurer Bob O'Donnell presented the current Year-to-Date Society Financial statement. The statement was approved as follows (Yancey/Rousseau):

Beginning Balance:	$ 197,682.44
Ending Balance:	$ 68,247.71

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR REPORT: Sylvia Ratchford covered several aspects regarding the meeting and publicity, including the housing and pre-registration brochures. She also reviewed who has voting privileges within the council and went over some suggestions to make the membership meetings run more efficiently.

HINMAN 2013: General Chairman Brad Greenway covered some highlights of his program, including Imtiaz Manji, John Svirsky and Pete Dawson. He also mentioned that Jack Hannah is his keynote speaker and there would be a new format to the pre-registration brochure. Lastly, he was excited to report the new casual Wednesday night event that all speakers and VIPs would be invited to before the meeting.

HINMAN 2014: Chairman-elect Brian Carpenter is supporting the 2013 meeting. He and his program chairmen had a productive ADA meeting and their list of featured clinicians is almost complete.

HINMAN 2015: Vice Chairman-elect Dave Lee reported he and his program chairmen attended the ADA meeting. They continue to support the 2013 meeting. Dr. Lee is focused on a continued effort of reaching out to those interested in getting more involved within the organization.

ADVISORY: Chairman Allen French reported that they recently approved a new telephone system for the Hinman office and also extended the early registration fee discount for the military for the duration of the meeting.

TRUSTEES: Chairman Bill Schroeder had no advisory report.

OLD BUSINESS: None

NEW BUSINESS: President-Elect Puskas reported that the next Executive Council Meeting will be held on January 3 at the Omni Hotel. She also announced that the nominating committee meeting will be held on January 10 and to speak to any members of the nominating committee if there are any suggestions for the slate.

President Roos reported on his recent visit to the UT School of Dentistry's 18th Hinman Dental Research Symposium. He said the event was quite impressive, as were the students' presentations. He reported that UT gives much credit to Hinman for their financial support.

President Roos covered more details on the proposed committee service requirement change to the bylaws.

MEMBERSHIP REPORT: Vice President Pat Yancey asked for a motion to go into executive session (Dubin/O'Donnell). Dr. Yancey requested a motion to go out of executive session (McDonald/Robinson). He presented the following names for membership: Drs. DAVE WEBER, PRESIDENT AND CEO, WEBER ASSOCIATES

Dave is an international speaker, trainer and author, who helps people 'Make Progress On Purpose!'

He's a favorite of Dr. Peter Dawson and been a guest of the Hinman, the Chicago Mid-Winter Meeting, the Texas Dental Association, California

Dental Association, 45+ Seattle Study Clubs and state dental organizations from Connecticut to California.

His 'Chihuahua on Caffeine' personality might get him invited to present, but it's his insights & applications about practice management issues that get him invited back time and time again.

Dave speaks 165 times per year and has been called the 'cure for the common meeting.' He and his wife Tina live in Marietta, GA and are the parents of two great kids.

Lecture Summary:

Some Days You're the Pigeon, Some Days the Statue

Boy, truer words were never spoken!! Come prepared to laugh and learn as one of our country's funniest and most sought after dental speakers discusses what many doctors and staff feel is the most challenging part of their practice – THE PEOPLE!! Doctors and patients... Doctors and staff... staff and patients... staff and staff... (heck, even husbands and wives... parents and children) Relationships! It all boils down to relationships. You can make 'progress on purpose' and learn the amazing impact that our communication has on the culture and climate of a practice or home!
