The Next 100 Years

Jim Roos
President

What a great 100 year celebration 2012 was for the Hinman Dental Society! General Chairman, Allen French and his program chairmen, Chip Mohme and Wayne Tadsen assembled an incredible line up of clinicians and programs for our 100th. President, Dave Lee did an outstanding job with our society membership meetings. Many thanks to Allen and Dave and our fantastic Hinman staff. We can't forget the job that Jane Puskas and the "100 year committee" did for our celebration, all culminating with our annual meeting cruise, which was a blast! Thanks to all who worked so hard to make it happen.

It is a great honor and privilege that I am able to serve as your president for the coming year. The Hinman Dental Society is without question the finest organization I have ever been involved with. Every aspect of this society has a value added quality due to our membership. Being chosen to serve as president of such an organization is truly humbling. I look forward to the coming year and working to continue our mission to promote and advance dental education.

As members of the Hinman Dental Society each one of us bears a responsibility to uphold and embrace our reputation for excellence. We exhibit this through our attention to detail and hospitality toward our speakers and guests during our meeting and throughout the year. Every member must commit to represent our society with these ideals. Our members are our strength because of our dedication. For Hinman to maintain our position it is imperative that all members volunteer eight hours or more to our meeting. We need everyone to be involved in the fun. As president I call on all members to serve in various positions, so don't be surprised if you are asked. I want to involve as many members as possible and get some fresh ideas and thoughts about how we can continue to improve.

This year is going to be exciting and fun as we enter into the next 100 years of Hinman. Our commitment to excellence and dedication to detail must remain our focus as we support General Chairman Brad Greenway and his program chairmen, Max Ferguson and Roy McDonald in creating the next "best Hinman ever." They have worked for three years traveling and scouting to secure the best dentistry has to offer.

Our membership meeting chairman is Pat Yancey and he has efficiently assembled an impressive group of speakers for our society meetings. The meeting dates are September 24th and November 12th at the Grand Hyatt in Buckhead, and January 14th at the Georgia Aquarium. These are all Monday afternoon meetings so mark your calendars and be sure to come. The value of the continuing education opportunities that Hinman provides is a tremendous benefit we receive as members. The Trustees significantly subsidize these meetings as well as our annual meeting so it makes sense to take advantage of the society "perks." We can't beat the price so thank a trustee when you can.

Our annual meeting will be held at Chateau Elan and we can look forward to a fun-filled family weekend. The venue and surrounding area have a wonderful variety of activities and the proximity should make it easy and economical to attend. Remember, the trustees generously take care of one night's stay at the hotel. What a Deal!

I am very excited about the coming year and Hinman's next 100 years. For an organization of this caliber the bar is set high and we must continue to achieve. We have a fantastic membership and a staff, led by Sylvia Ratchford, that is second to none. We need everyone working together, getting involved and being a part of putting on the finest dental meeting, anywhere. Be a proud member of Hinman, sign up for a committee and do the best job you can, because it does matter.

General Chairman's Message

The Tradition Continues...

Brad Greenway
General Chairman

The 2013 Hinman Dental Meeting will kick off our second century of providing quality dental education. Our celebration of 100 years was a huge success for the meeting as well as our society. Congratulations to Allen French and his team for having the vision and providing the leadership and guidance to create a great Hinman 100th. Also congratulations to Dave Lee for a wonderful year as President. His year ended in style with the Hinman cruise annual meeting.

Program chairs, Max Ferguson and Roy McDonald have been working hard to compile an outstanding program for 2013. I will try to highlight some topics in each newsletter. As you are well aware, the Georgia Board of Dentistry passed rules that allow for dentists to provide Botox/Dermal filler to their patients. We will be providing the certification course in March. Also Dr. Rouse will be speaking on Prosthodontics and Sleep Apnea—another current topic in dentistry. Dr. Okeson will be sharing his knowledge about TMD—its differential diagnosis along with its clinical management.

The keynote speaker will be Jack Hanna, who has hosted his television show “Jack Hanna’s Animal Adventures” for 10 years. Jack will be bringing some animals as well. I just hope there are not any snakes! Thanks to the AO Fraternity for their continued support of the keynote session.

We are excited about our program. Our hope is that you, your staff and your colleagues will take advantage of the courses offered.

Also your volunteer participation is truly appreciated and is what makes our meeting stand out amongst dental meetings. There are a number of great committees that need people to serve. Be sure to say “yes” when asked by a committee chairman or you can call the Hinman office and they will help place you in an assignment. The meeting has grown to a point where everyone’s help is needed and wanted so be sure to do your part. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to serve as General Chairman.

Quality continuing education, membership involvement and support of dental education have been and will be Hinman’s mission—the tradition continues!

Member Corner Articles will appear in the Preview Review Newsletter quarterly. Hinman Dental Society staff and the Society Editor will determine what works best for the current newsletter (size, content, etc). There is no guarantee as to if or when your article will be published. The society also reserves the right to edit any articles for content, length or grammar.

Content Guidelines

The member corner is intended to be a light-hearted, fun-to-read section of the newsletter. Some examples include:

- Informational topics that would appeal to dentists (not necessarily dental related)
- A biography of a member that highlights any fun or unique hobbies or interests
- A wrap up of an event attended that would be of interest to Hinman members

- Local volunteer opportunities you are a part of that may appeal to members
- Society connections, interesting facts or stories that would be of interest to the group

The member corner is not intended for advertising or content that would result in financial gain for the author or another party. Articles should be relatively short in length, with a 425 word maximum. Submit your articles to Laura Pope, Member Services Manager, via email at lpope@hinman.org. They should be accompanied with a headshot of the contributing member or a photo related to the article content. You will be notified prior to publication of your article.

Hinman Quick Picks: For the next issue, we are looking for your favorite holiday recipes to share with the group. Please send your recipe, why you enjoy the recipe and a headshot to lpope@hinman.org no later than September 21.

A Breath of Fresh Air

*Hiker and Biker Member,
Wayne Kerr's
Favorite Getaway Spot*

So, Doctor, do you ever feel a little cramped or claustrophobic, spending your working hours in 90 – 100 square feet everyday looking through loupes or a microscope at fractions of millimeters of carious tooth structure near a vital pulp in a small dark space filled with saliva and an aggressively mobile tongue attached to your patient de jour who hates dentists (but not you), is impossible to numb and is behind on his/her car payments and wants “special financing?”

If so - trust me - you're normal, and just like your peers! So, what do you do to relax, chill-out, and regain your mental, physical and spiritual well-being away from your operator?

I for one, love to bike and hike, and Moab, Utah, is one of my favorite places on the planet! If I'm not biking the White Rim or Virgin River Rim Trail, I'm hoofing it across some of my favorite trails. Moab is home to both Canyonlands and Arches National Parks. And, Holy Bonkers, Batman, there's just no finer hiking anywhere (check them out on the Internet)!

Whether you're hiking to Delicate Arch, the Devil's Garden, or through the ranger-led “Fiery Furnace” of Arches, you're hiking some of the finest trails in the nation. And Canyonlands offers a diversity of hikes as well, including the well-known Mesa Arch trail which leads to the arch and the classic view through it of the “washer woman” rock formation.

Delicate Arch, located in Arches National Park, near Moab, Utah

Treat yourself to some time away from the incredible pressure, stress and self-imposed demand for excellence that we place upon ourselves every day of every week. Take some time to ditch the cell-phone, calendar and daily-dependence upon the only person who can save the universe (that's you), and spend a few days viewing geological wonders under clear, cobalt blue skies while breathing humidity-free, mountain-fresh air cherishing and embracing life. Trust me... I know.

I promise the experience will do you wonders, and that you will return to your practice and your life with new energy, an appreciation for all that you are and all that you have, as well as a renewed spirit and sense of goodwill!

PAST TO PRESENT: The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society – Team in Training

Hinman members are very active within their communities, especially in the volunteer realm. The Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, who has invested over $800 million into blood cancer research, has received strong support throughout the years from Hinman members and their families. We highlight Tommy Owens, a coach since 1992, and Heather Bussey, who started supporting the organization in 2009, with their stories of support.

Dr. Owens with his daughter, Gretchen, after the Zurich Marathon.

Dr. Tommy Owens

Dr. Tommy Owens, Past General Chairman of the Hinman Meeting and dentist for more than 25 years, has been married to his wife Patsy for 47 years. They have three children: Leslie (who passed away due to leukemia in 1989), Gretchen and Greg. Tommy is also a grandfather of two. He received his dental degree from Emory School of Dentistry.

After the loss of Leslie at age 24, Tommy has dedicated his life to fighting leukemia and other blood cancers. In 1992, just a few years after her death, Tommy became the first coach for Team in Training, an endurance training program with The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society (LLS). As Georgia's run coach, Tommy has trained thousands of people to complete marathons and, most importantly, raise money for The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. Since he began, he has helped to raise millions of dollars, which has made an incredible impact in blood cancer research, ultimately resulting in saving the lives of many people. In addition, Tommy trains other coaches from across the country how to effectively help runners reach their goals and make a lasting impact on LLS.

Tommy has received numerous awards for his many years of service, including the prestigious Chairman's Citation in 2005 from the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. He has also received the Carl Chandler Award for outstanding lifetime service to Oxford College of Emory University. This award has only been given eight times and Tommy is one of only three recipients who were not faculty of the school.

Dr. Bussey and her husband, Jason, after finishing the Nation's Triathlon in 2009.

Dr. Heather Bussey

Just like her career, Dr. Heather Bussey didn't start out seeking to become an Ironman, but she did it and raised money for a cause that benefits more people than you could imagine. Dr. Bussey started her career as a dental assistant and returned to school to become a dentist. She graduated from MCG in 2006 and has loved it since.

In 2009, Dr. Bussey reconnected with, and married in 2010, her high-school sweetheart, Jason. He encouraged her to train for an Olympic distance Triathlon with him to raise money for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society (LLS) through Team in Training (TNT). With several friends having been affected by lymphoma, she jumped right in. When she started training, she could barely run a mile, but she completed the Nation's Triathlon in September of 2009, raising over $4,000 for LLS. She was hooked!

Since then, she has completed numerous TNT events including half-marathons, century rides (100-mile cycling events) and other triathlons. In November, 2011, she and Jason completed their first Ironman in Tempe, Arizona. They raised over $11,000 for this event.

After opening a new practice in February of this year, Heather and Jason had to decide whether or not they wanted to, or could, train for another event with TNT. They decided to sign up for Ironman Couer d'Alene on June 23, 2013 and have raised the bar to a $15,000 fundraising goal for the upcoming race.

You can view their fundraising website at: <http://pages.teamintraining.org/ga/cdairon13/bussey>.

EVENT SPOTLIGHT

Georgia Mission of Mercy

What started as a vision of Karyn Stockwell's to provide dental care for the needy in the state of Georgia was brought to life in a big way in August of 2011 at the first annual Georgia Mission of Mercy (GMOM) clinic. The efforts were spearheaded by Hinman Members Karyn Stockwell and Jonathan Dubin and the Georgia Dental Association, a team that worked tirelessly over an 18 month period to create a truly successful inaugural event. Dubin and Stockwell, along with others, traveled the country for an 18 month period to visit other clinics, much like a Hinman chairperson does in preparation for our March meeting.

The event took place in Woodstock, GA and involved over 1,300 volunteers, 300 of which were dentists, giving of their time and services over two days to provide free dental care to 2,179 Georgia residents needing a helping hand. The clinic included 100 chairs and was free to all recipients. A majority of the dentists, chair and lead positions were filled by Hinman members and previous committee chairs, which was a great asset to the event to have so many with prior experience of working with large numbers of people and planning of events. The event provided over $1.7 million in services that changed many lives for the better. The second annual GMOM event will take place June 13 – 16, 2013 at the North Atlanta Trade Center in Gwinnett County. They are raising the bar and hoping for even bigger results at next year's event.

CALLING ALL CARS

Dentists, by nature, are an eclectic group having many interests and hobbies. Such is the case with our Hinman family. We have members whose hobbies and interests include photography, champion gunmanship, angling, gardening, and motorcycling, just to name a few. Many of our members also own and enjoy their vintage and classic cars. In anticipation of a classic car display on the exhibit floor for the 2013 Hinman Dental Meeting, we are "Calling all Cars." If you own one or more vintage or classic cars, at least 25 years old, please e-mail a photo and description to hinmancars@gmail.com. Please include the year, make and model. Stay tuned. Vroom, Vroom!

Half Marathon Runner and Former Steelworker, Dr. Jim Roos

Hinman Dental Society President

There's no question that after completing 27 consecutive Peachtree Road Races and 15 Atlanta Half Marathons, Dr. Jim Roos is more than prepared to tackle a rigorous year as President of the Hinman Dental Society. He once was a steelworker, after all, so this job should be a walk in the park.

When he's not practicing dentistry in Smyrna, and serving as President of Hinman, Dr. Roos spends his time exercising, reading, completing chores around the house and improving his golf game. He and Liz, his wife of 38 years, also enjoy time away and upstate living in the "Golden Corner" of South Carolina. They love fishing, golfing, wine clubbing and taking frequent spins around Lake Hartwell in their 13-foot Boston Whaler.

Even with a multitude of hobbies and interests outside of the profession, dentistry still tops the list of favorites for Dr. Roos. He loves the personal relationships developed with patients and changing their attitude and perception about dentistry. "When a patient goes from a not so healthy place to being committed and involved in their dental well being, it's just great," he said. "I really enjoy problem-solving and addressing a patient's individual needs."

Dr. Roos isn't sure what he would have chosen as a career path if it wasn't dentistry, because he always felt well-suited for the profession. Liz, a dental hygienist, introduced him to some Hinman members and he began working in a dental lab owned by Drs. Jim Cooper and Jim Kincaid, while he applied for dental school. During the year preceding dental school, he met even more great dentists and Hinman members, like Drs. Tom Callahan, Lawson Broadrick, Paul Isler, Mike McDevitt, Dan Nable and others. After graduation, he was inspired to move back to Atlanta permanently and become a Hinman Dental Society member.

One of his favorite Hinman experiences was the first year he served as chairman of the arrangements committee, attending to the speakers' accommodations. The previous chairman, Dr. Bill Schroeder, gave him some valuable advice. He suggested carrying a pocketful of $5 bills and handing them to the housekeepers to encourage them to clean the rooms Dr. Roos would need to inspect. So, he bankrolled the tips and it worked like a charm. He was a star with housekeeping! It took a fraction of the time it might have and he ended up with tickets to the Hawks game and access to the then restricted health club where Hawks and Braves executives exercised. It was a memorable Hinman, he said.

Now, as president, Dr. Roos wants to continue the tradition of excellence at Hinman. It's his goal to have every single member of the organization involved and contributing. While many do serve on committees, there are still some who do not and every member is needed to make Hinman the best it possibly can be.

"Some people need to be asked to serve, so if this is you or you know of someone, let's ask," he added. "There is plenty to do and we need everyone involved to make the next 100 years as successful as the last!"

Lecture Topic:

Medical Emergencies in the Dental Office

The dentist's role in managing any medical emergency begins with prevention. This requires that all staff members, including dentists, dental hygienists, dental assistants and receptionists, be prepared for such emergencies. A team approach should be used, and each staff member can play an important role. Appropriate preparation makes this team-work effective and should improve the patient's chance of achieving a good result. The goal is to manage the patient's care until he or she recovers fully or until help arrives. The dentist should develop a basic action plan that is understood by all staff members. We will cover how to implement such strategies in your office.

- Become familiar with the most common emergencies
- Prevent, identify and manage emergencies in the office
- Preparing your staff and office for medical emergencies
- Emergency drugs and equipment, what are the "must have" items

DR. MICHAEL PRUETT

Michael E. Pruett, D.M.D. is currently the Assistant Professor of Oral Rehabilitation, Vice Chairman of Hospital Dentistry and Director of the General Practice Residency Program at Georgia Health Science University and he received his D.M.D. from the Medical College of Georgia. He completed a two year General Practice Residency at the University of Virginia and then became the Director of Dentistry at Mount Sinai Hospital in Hartford, Connecticut.
